05

Security Service

- Guarding of buildings and construction sites
- Object guarding

Guarding buildings and construction sites

We categorize this among particularly important activities, as the values of structures continuously increase.

Therefore, we implement combined protection (patrols and portable alarm systems), which provides significantly greater security against potential thefts and pilferage. We undertake the provision of security for open and closed areas, with dogs or armed guards as needed, as well as the installation and operation of portable signaling and alarm devices. By agreement, we can also carry out supplementary tasks. As part of the service, we conduct a preliminary survey and provide recommendations for the security measures. The service fee depends on the value of the assets and the specific needs outlined by the client. The uniforms (whether in standard uniform or civilian clothing) and the equipment (batons, tear gas dispensers, handguns) of our security personnel are also determined by the client, tailored to the value of the service. We undertake liability insurance for the service, the terms of which are determined based on the value of the assets and the client's requirements.

Facility Security

In facility security, we perform our tasks aligned with the needs and interests of the client. Our highly qualified security guards carry out their duties thoroughly and with great care to ensure your personal and material safety. Our staff can also handle tasks such as managing telephone exchanges, installing and operating alarm systems, inspecting doors and windows, controlling entry and exit points, escorting visitors to specific individuals, performing random checks on employees, and managing documents requested by the client. Furthermore, they undertake all activities that comply with legal regulations and professional standards.

Moving and lifting heavy machinery

1. MACHINE INSTALLATION

We are capable of creating modern operating conditions in all areas of industrial production, regardless of the field of expertise. Our main activity is the installation of machines and the movement of heavy machinery.

2. MAINTENANCE

Our services are general in nature, so we also undertake maintenance and sustainability tasks after installation. Our service background is suitable for servicing the entire technological surface.

3. TRANSPORTATION

If required, we also participate in daily operations, such as warehousing, preparing shipments, and organizing and conducting transportation.
